

How to Schedule a Super Librarian at Your Library's Event

The State Library has purchased two life-size standup figures of the Super Librarian, for use at the marketing rollout press conference and at many other events/conventions where the State Library will be an exhibitor this year.

Since announcing the campaign concept and tactics to the library community at our five kickoff parties, we have received requests to make the Super Librarian standup available to public libraries for local events.

While we hope to be able to schedule many appearances, we have not yet taken delivery of the figures. At this time, we cannot determine if they will withstand frequent display and travel until we receive them.

Please check back here soon!